Blaze Causes $3,500 Damage At Lico's Market

Stock and equipment loss estimated at $3500 was caused by an early evening fire Sunday at Lico's Market, 295 E. Campbell Avenue. The fire, of undetermined origin, broke out in a rear storage shed at the market, ruining meat in an adjoining walk-in-refrigerator, canned goods and soap stored in the shed.

Campbell Volunteer Firemen, who answered the 8:30 p.m. alarm in record time, fought the blaze for half an hour before bringing it under control. The intense heat broke a window on the second floor of the building as well as another at the rear of the adjoining drug store.

Pete Lico, who with his father, James Lico, owns the business, said the cause of the fire had not been determined, though it is possible that faulty wiring may have been responsible.

Lico said the owner of the building, Walker Vaughn, plans to rebuild the gutted shed.

Campbell Native Wins Head Post At Stanford

A former Campbell resident was named recently by President Wallace Sterling of Stanford University as the new head of the department of pharmacology in the Stanford Medical School. He is Dr. Windsor C. Cutting, professor of pharmacology and therapeutics.

Son of the T. A. Cuttings, formerly of Campbell and now residents of Los Altos, Dr. Cutting attended Campbell Elementary School and Campbell Union High School. Upon graduation he enrolled in San Jose State College and later transferred to Stanford where he earned his doctorate degree.

Dr. Cutting succeeds Dr. Paul J. Hanzlik who will retire in September. The new department head resides with his wife and parents in Los Altos.

Kiwanis Meeting Fetes D. Cramer

Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting was "D. H. Cramer Day" when Kiwanians and former students of the Campbell High School's former principal met to honor the retiring educator who is a charter member of the Campbell Kiwanis Club.

Master of ceremonies for the meeting was Milt Nelson, a former student of Mr. Cramer, and Kiwanis Club member, who presented him with a gift as an expression of appreciation for his 33 years on the teaching staff at the local high school. Also seated at the luncheon table with Nelson and Mr. Cramer were other former students of his.

Past presidents, R. G. Archibald, George Burrows, J. Ed Wiesendanger, and T. A. Cutting, were also present to honor him.

Out-of-town guests included Olie Upton and Hal Danforth of Los Gatos, Fred Bradman of San Marino, Charles Griffin of San Jose, Warren Hyde of Cupertino, and Arch Keesling of Honolulu.

Coach Ralph Noddin presented the high school student of the day, Margaret Robinson, remarking on her many extra-curricular activities at the school.

The next meeting of the group will feature a speaker who will talk on the new hospital project. Herb Shadle is in charge of the arrangements.

Marie A. Klugow

The program will contain pictures of Lieutenant Lanphear, post officers and department officers taking part in the program, together with names of charter members to date, and names of local firms which have assisted in the formation of the local unit.

All proceeds of the game will go into the scholarship fund. Should a winner decide against entering college, the scholarship will be awarded the second boy in the balloting.

The pitching staff is made up of John Oldham, Campbell High, Manuel Escalera of Fremont High, Pete Canton of San Jose Tech, Len Payne of Gilroy, Don Dolen of Bellarmine and Jerry Stevens of Lincoln.

Oldham was named "player of the year" in the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League, and Escalera and Payne were All-SCVAL selections.

CUHS Teacher Retires After 38 Years Of Service

For distinguished service in the field of education, Campbell Union High School's school board presented a certificate of appreciation to D. H. Cramer, past principal of the school, who is retiring after 42 years in the teaching profession.

Mr. Cramer joined the Campbell High School staff in 1912 when its enrollment was a mere 100 compared to the near 1000 mark it is today. He has seen it grow from a small wooden structure to the modern plant it is today and expects to see the day soon when Campbell High School will enlarge still further.

For some time now he has been teaching the sons and daughters of pupils he taught in past years.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL
In 1920 he assumed the position of school principal, relinquishing it in 1934. The absence of a director of physical education caused him in 1920, to take on duties of basketball coach. His tutoring produced a regional championship team. Experienced as a physics, chemistry and mathematics instructor, his recent years have been spent teaching in the latter field.

Mr. Cramer is a native of Ohio, and graduate of Wooster College in that state, leaving it in 1910 to take graduate work at the University of California. Previously he had taught for four years, the latter half as principal, at Lake Geneva, Wisc., school. He also spent one and one-half years working in a copper mining company in Colorado.

Extremely active in community affairs, Mr. Cramer served as president of the Campbell Kiwanis club, was master of Campbell Masonic Lodge, and treasurer of the Campbell Methodist Church for 35 years. He is a charter member of the Kiwanis Club and is chairman of the local Red Cross chapter.

Both his sons graduated from Campbell High School and Stanford Medical School. His younger son was killed during the war and his older son is now taking specialized work in San Francisco Veterans' Hospital.

The certificate of appreciation presented him by the school board was only a small measure of the thanks felt by his former students and colleagues who have worked with him in school and community affairs.

"It is hard to say in a few words all the nice thoughts we have about Mr. Cramer," said Laurence J. Hill, principal of Campbell Union High School, "but I can say that he has the respect and admiration of two generations of students. We hate to see him leave, but wish him much happiness in his retirement."

Mr. and Mrs. Cramer intend to "just take it easy" for a few months. They may spend the winter in Florida, however, and will return to Campbell after a prolonged motoring trip.

Bradley Judgment May Be Submitted To Superior Judge Avilla This Weekend

Although Superior Judge Leonard R. Avilla has already rendered his decision in the Bradley Manor annexation case, sale of $950,000 in bonds for enlargement of the Campbell High School awaits submission of preparation of the final judgment by the counsel for the winning side.

Campbell Patrol Breaks Up Start Of Gang Fight

What had the makings of a teen-aged gang fight was nipped in the bud Saturday by members of Campbell American Legion Patrol and State Highway Patrol when they discovered a gathering of youths, reportedly representing rival factions from Campbell and Santa Clara, in a Winchester Road used car lot.

Legion Patrol Lieutenant Rex Kaber reported the patrol's finding a bull whip under the seat of one of the boys' cars.

"We caught about eight of them, some of them Campbell boys, and told them to get out of town and stay out. There were others who got away just as we arrived."

Legion Patrol Captain Jack Chappell stated that a similar gathering was broken up the previous weekend but neither side had ventured to begin a fight with the other.

Commenting on the affair, Campbell Union High School Principal Laurence J. Hill said, "We know that one or two of the boys are from our school. Apparently they can find no interests other than fighting to keep themselves occupied. Local police are doing their utmost to keep this sort of juvenile fighting out of Campbell. The number of students in this town who are interested in maintaining Campbell's reputation is enough to offset such a small group of boys who are ignorant of the interests of the community."

Martin S. Walsh Is President Of Grange Group

Attorney Martin S. Walsh was elected president of the Orchard City Grange, Inc., at the club's meeting Tuesday in Campbell IOOF Hall. Other officers of the recently incorporated grange are Mrs. Genevieve Helmbold, secretary, and A. J. Emory, treasurer.

The hall was packed with members and visiting grangers for the group's pie social, and 54 pies were cut and served to 108 people. Ernest Cooradt, former master of Pomona Grange, obligated four candidates for third and fourth degrees. Masters honored were Dwight Sheffer of Cupertino Grange; Mrs. Effie Spencer of Almaden Grange, and Frank Bishop of Mount Hamilton Grange.

J. C. Gordon spoke on the sales slip contest, stating that the grange having the largest amount of the slips will receive an award, as well as the grange member holding the largest number of slips.

The members voted that each granger purchase a book of tickets for the June 27 hog project, and that the tickets be sold by the grangers.

Orchard City and Cupertino Granges will have a picnic at the Odd Fellows Home in Saratoga on Saturday, June 24.

High School Cadet Corps Reviewed

Annual Federal inspection and battalion review of 65 members of Campbell High School Cadet Corps was held recently. Campbell unit is the 1st battalion of the 12th Regiment, California Cadet Corps.

Federal inspecting officer was Maj. Victor Taylor. Officers reviewing the parade included Brig. Gen. A. E. Farrell, Rt. Col. A. R. Langley, commanding officer of 159th Infantry Regiment, San Jose National Guard; Col. A. E. Merrill, of Los Gatos; Col. Corwin Olds, chaplain, California National Guard, and Lt. Col. N. Warren Sheldon, Santa Clara County coordinator of military training and commanding officer of Campbell Cadet Corps.

Avilla gave his decision last April that the Bradley Manor annexation election was illegal. Privilege of preparing the findings and writing of the final judgment goes to counsel for the winning side, in this case Attorney John M. Burnett. The attorney would present the judgment to Avilla who, if he finds it satisfactory, will sign and file it.

Judge Avilla stated today that he had received and answered a letter from Campbell Elementary School District Superintendent William C. Henley in which the superintendent requests early action on the matter. He pointed out that sale of the high school bonds awaits the final filing, and that the elementary school itself is planning to call an election on a bond issue in the near future.

After receiving Henley's letter, Judge Avilla said he talked to Burnett who told him he expected to present the judgment within the next day or two. "I still haven't received it," commented Avilla.

Asked if it were not all right for the high school district to go ahead with sale of the bonds now, Avilla replied that while the district has the right to do so, nobody would be eager to buy the bonds until all legal technicalities had been ironed out.

Later, the Campbell Press talked to Burnett who indicated he is waiting for the court reporter to write up a piece of testimony covering the number of lots in the area and other details. "These findings must be drawn up with meticulous precision," he explained, "but I expect to submit the judgment to Judge Avilla either this afternoon or tomorrow morning."

Planners Approve SJ-LG Property Rezone Petition

Santa Clara County Planning Commission approved application of Mark Skrametta for extension of a commercial zone into a residential zone on his property on the west side of San Jose-Los Gatos Road, between Mitchell Avenue and Roberts Road. The board hearing June 7 showed Skrametta plans to add to the existing building on the property, and to remodel the present building. The official plan line running through the property requires a 25-foot setback from the property line. If Skrametta remodels, he must move (Continued on page 4)

Swimming, Dancing Classes Plus Art, Crafts And Sports Planned

Supervised summer recreation for the three schools in the Campbell Elementary School district will open July 10, Neal Royer, recreation program director, announced today.

Summer Play Program To Have Music School

Under the auspices of the summer recreation program, a summer music school will be conducted daily July 10 through September 1 at the Campbell Grammar School.

George Currlin

Richard Gordon is heading the school.

A class in beginning instrument for children of the third, fourth, and fifth grade levels will be held every morning. Strings, woodwinds, and brasses will be taught.

For those who have had elementary training, sections of band, string ensemble, and orchestra will be sponsored. The sections are necessarily limited and will allow room for only 10 or 12 more. Gordon will instruct the string ensemble and the orchestra.

George Currlin, prominent flautist and clarinetist, will conduct the band section. He has played with the orchestras of Andre Kostelanetz and Meredith Wilson.

Lou Stommel, member of the San Jose Symphony Orchestra, will instruct the class in brasses. He plays the French horn.

Expecting an active group, Gordon plans to take the children to an outdoor symphony at San Francisco's Sigmund Stern Grove sometime during the eight-weeks session.

Although the program will be sponsored partly by the school district, its operation necessarily involves a nominal fee to be paid by parents of the students.

George Currlin, well-known flautist and clarinetist who has appeared with the orchestras of Andre Kostelanetz and Meredith Wilson, will instruct the band section of the summer music school to be held here July 10 through September 1. The school is sponsored by the Campbell School District under the auspices of the summer recreation program. Richard Gordon is in charge.

Petition Requests Road Repair In San Tomas Area

A 70-name petition presented at the Tuesday, June 13 meeting, urged Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors to widen and improve roads in the San Tomas district and provide an east-west lateral road between Campbell and Saratoga.

Stephen S. Ridgley Sr., in a letter accompanying the petition, asserted that the roads in need of emergency repairs include San Tomas-Aquino Road, Hazel Avenue, Crockett Avenue, Munro Avenue, Virginia Avenue, and More Avenue. He explained that weather and heavy traffic have combined to undermine many of the roads in the rapidly growing area. The district has some 3,000 residents at present.

Ridgley also suggested extension of Allendale Avenue to form the Campbell-Saratoga traffic lateral. The petition reportedly has the backing of the San Tomas PTA, Improvement Club and Men's Club. The request was referred by the Supervisors to the Fifth District Supervisor, Earl C. Campbell and County Surveyor Robert B. Chandler.

Summer Play Program To Have Music School

Under the auspices of the summer recreation program, a summer music school will be conducted daily July 10 through September 1 at the Campbell Grammar School.

Inter-school softball and baseball leagues will be set up between the three schools: Campbell Elementary, San Tomas and Moorpark.

The director emphasized that upper grade pupils will be urged to sign up at the school nearest them to avoid transportation difficulties. "The program at each school will be sufficient to take care of their needs."

The eight-week play schedule will be operated daily, Monday through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at each school. A dancing class, for which 30 already have signed, will be conducted each Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. at Fredrick Studio in Santa Clara. Membership in this group is limited to upper grade pupils. Registration for the class is still open.

The general recreation scheduled includes sports, crafts, art, group games, reading, story telling and swimming. Registration will be taken at each school on opening day, July 10.

Playground supervisors at each school will be Miss Margaret Enas, San Tomas; Miss Dorothy Wilkins, Campbell, and Miss Beatrice Hohman, Moorpark.

At each session of camp, girls will be divided into units according to their age and experience. There will be adequate adult supervisors for each unit, and highest standards of safety and sanitation will be maintained at all times.

It is of the utmost importance that all girls be in perfect health when they attend camp. A further word of caution goes to parents of girls who are susceptible to poison oak. Consult your physician for preventive treatments if your daughter is affected by this plant.

Girls are asked to wear shorts or jeans and take along an unbreakable drinking cup, small notebook and pencil, lunch and clothes-pin to hold it. Girls may also take pocket knives, cameras and film if they have them.

Girls attending day camp from the Saratoga area are asked to meet at the Saratoga Federated Church each morning at 9:40 to be transported by bus to the campsite. Girls will be returned by bus to the church each afternoon at 3:20. Mrs. James Bailey and Mrs. Roland McIntyre will serve as co-directors of day camp.

Matsko Building Appeal Denied By Supervisors

Mrs. Mary Matsko's appeal of a Planning Commission denial of her request for a use permit was denied again last week, this time by the County Board of Supervisors. She sought permission to erect an addition to her garage at 553 Arleta Avenue.

The planning commission originally ruled that the 20x24 addition, to be used as a dwelling, plus existing buildings, would constitute too great a building area for the size of her lot. Neighbors also protested that they didn't want another "Winchester House" in their area.

Prior to the Board of Supervisors hearing on her appeal June 5, residents of the Beverly tract in which the Matsko property is located, requested interim zoning for the entire tract and the supervisors adopted such an ordinance that morning.

Under the interim zoning provisions, all new structures, except single family dwellings, must be approved by the Planning Commission which would issue a permit for the buildings. In effect, Mrs. Matsko must go before the Planning Commission again if she wishes to continue her efforts to gain permission to build the addition.

War, Political Strife Hamper Burma's Future

Dr. J. C. Johannes, former medical missionary in Burma and India, provided background notes for the present conflict in Burma when he talked before the Campbell Rotary Club Tuesday noon. President Forrest Reese presided. Albert Smith, member of the Campbell Union High School faculty, was the guest of Dobie Jeffers at the meeting.

Dr. Johannes was introduced by Emerson Arends Jr., chairman of the day.

The future of Burma, a country the size of California with a population of 14 million, seems definitely on the wane. Dr. Johannes told his listeners. The trouble is the outgrowth of both wartime mistreatment of the country as well as Burma's internal political strife.

Of the 14 million, some eleven and a half million are Burmese and largely Buddhist. A large minority of a million and a half consists of the Korins, a Christian group which appears to have the balance of brains and leadership abilities.

The country was a victim of the burned-earth policy when the British evacuated Burma during the war. The Japanese occupation policies further reduced the wealth of the nation and, at war's end Burma was without such necessary utilities as power and sewage. The city of Mandalay was a principal victim of the destructive treatment.

During the war years and immediately afterward widespread looting of homes was carried on, although the penalty was severe—those convicted of looting were sentenced to have their hands cut off.

Burma has no industries to increase its national income. Its principal products are rice, bauxite and timber.

Although the Korins have the intelligence, they are a much harassed minority, said Dr. Johannes. When the country was granted its independence, the Burmese conducted a program of annihilation against the Korins. Many were imprisoned and later decapitated.

When the prime minister and members of his cabinet were assassinated last year, investigation showed that no precautions had been taken to insure the safety of the government officials. Today, the cabinet is housed in a barricaded area, popularly called the "Minister's Cage."

Although the Korins are making a definite fight to regain their earlier status as the nation's leaders, the outlawism continues. Dr. Johannes pointed out that the situation provides a fertile breeding ground for communism. Actually, the so-called communists in Burma are less Marxist than they are outlaws, he explained. Current party in power is the Anti-Fascist People's Freedom League, which is anything but what the title implies.

In closing, the speaker remarked that Burma's sad state today is due in part to the acquisition of too many western tricks by the natives who, heretofore, were a simple and essential honest people.

Rangoon General Hospital is practically the only hospital in the country, he added, and medical facilities for the care of the sick are generally non-existent in the rest of the land.

Taken under advisement was the application of Alvin B. and Adeline L. Routh for a use permit to maintain a gravel pit 200 feet south of Pollard Road and the Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road intersection, between the Southern Pacific right of way and Los Gatos Creek. Although no protests to the application were received, residents of the area did request more information, especially concerning the route trucks would use in entering Winchester Rd. from gravel pit in the creek bed. County Surveyor Robert Chandler will be asked to study the matter. The board will hear the report on June 24.

First public hearing was conducted on petition of Frank and Sophie Lucas seeking to reclassify property on the south side of Campbell Avenue between North Union Avenue and Los Gatos Creek. They ask a commercial zone for the property which is now zoned for residential use. The case now on the property is regarded as a non-conforming use. The Lucases plan a commercial use and erection of duplexes on the property. Second hearing is set for July 5.

Resolution of intention was filed by R. B. Thompson et al to reclassify property on the east and west sides of Central Avenue from the northerly line of Grand Street to a point 450 feet north. Hearings have been scheduled for July 19 and August 16. Thompson asks a change from single family to R-3 residential zoning.

Still under advisement is petition of E. R. Kennedy to reclassify property on Winchester and Kennedy Roads to commercial zoning.

Hearing dates are still to be set on request of Campbell American Legion Post 596 and Mrs. S. N. Hedegard for zoning change to permit erection of a legion hall on Latimer Avenue at Winchester Road.

Salinas Rodeo Provides Dustless Arena Surface

People planning to see the California rodeo in Salinas June 22 through 25, will enjoy clean surroundings and a dustless track and arena.

Directors of this big western sporting event have long realized the value of providing customers with facilities for comfort and clear visibility. As a result, parking areas have been planted with grass, and entrance to the grandstand is possible without ruining clothing and shoes.

Strangely enough, the track and arena both appear to be natural soil. However, observers will note a peculiar action of any dust stirred by racing or bucking stock. The dust, never rising to any appreciable height, will settle immediately. This is because the soil has been treated with ocean brine obtained from nearby salt works, and hauled to the grounds in tank trucks. Proximity to the California coast has made this possible, and at the same time accounts for the cool comfortable climate of Salinas.

Arena contestants and track performers both prefer natural soil surfaces to turf or tan bark, and to them, as well as the spectators, the California Rodeo working conditions are "tops."

'EASY DOES IT'

By HELEN HALE

DO YOU KNOW how to hang clothes properly from a line? If not, then glance over these tips for they'll save you many an ironing problem.

Towels, pillow cases, tablecloths and other small or large flat pieces should be hung one-third over the line to avoid dog-eared corners.

Hang sheets and tablecloths doubled with hems together, one-third over the line.

When you're short on line space, handkerchiefs, napkins and dollies can be grouped together and hung over the line. Never hang them by one corner as they will have to be stretched and ironed back into rectangular shapes, and this will take time as well as weaken the fibers.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Pineapple-Rice Casserole

(Serves 6-8)
3 cups cooked white rice
4 slices pineapple, cut into pieces
1/2 cup brown sugar
Butter

Juice from canned pineapple
Place one-half of cooked rice in bottom of greased casserole. Arrange pieces of two slices of pineapple over top of rice and dot with butter. Sprinkle with half of brown sugar. Repeat with rice, pineapple, sugar and butter. Pour pineapple juice over all and bake in a slow (300°) oven for 30 minutes. Serve hot if you want casserole to go with the main part of the meal or cold as a dessert.

Shirts should be hung by their tails, not by shoulders or collars. Clothespins may make marks in the shirts on the shoulders which will take time to press out.

On the other hand, dresses, blouses, gowns and pajama tops should be hung by the shoulder seams.

To get slips through the drying stage in the best way possible, wrap first in a fluffy towel to get out the excess moisture, then hang by the underarm section.

Women's hose should also be wrapped in a towel to absorb extra moisture. Then hang by the top of the hose until they dry.

Men's hose will look better if you stretch the foot into shape before hanging. Hang these by the tops. Or, if you are hanging inside, let the tops hang partly over the line.

Anne Hofling Wins Screen Test; Twentieth-Century Fox To Scout Local Theater Workshop Productions

Things are looking up for the director and members of Los Gatos Theater Workshop. The ability of Director Lillian Fontaine and the earnest endeavors of the amateur thespians are bearing fruit, for one of the group's former members has reached the screen test stage at a Hollywood movie studio. The studio also plans to send its test scout to the local workshop plays.

Anne Hofling of Los Gatos, seen here recently in the production of "I Remember Mama," was to be screen tested this week by Twentieth Century Fox film company.

Mrs. Fontaine, in telling of the good fortune which has befallen Miss Hofling, said the young woman, who played Aunt Trina in the local play, has been signed to a seven-year optional contract with Twentieth Century. Outcome of the contract depends upon success of the screen test.

She made a hit as the lead in the Callboard Theater's play, "Mr. and Mrs. Phipps," in Hollywood. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hofling of Bainter Avenue.

Her brother, Gilbert, has been seen in a number of the workshop theater productions here and has a role in the forthcoming "Two Blind Mice" by Samuel Spewack, which is scheduled for an August showing.

"I'm very happy that a local girl has made good," was the enthusiastic comment of Director Fontaine.

"That isn't all; Twentieth Century has asked me for a schedule of our productions so they can send a scout to the performances."

Incidentally, an elderly Negro and a Negro choir are still needed for "Two Blind Mice." Anyone with a suggestion is asked to call Lillian Fontaine at Saratoga 3456.

Elliot's Gets OK For 1/2-Million Dollar Shopping Center

Construction is expected to begin by fall on the $500,000 rural shopping center on San Jose-Los Gatos Road between Garden Lane and Farley Road, following granting of a special H-1 zoning for the project at the Santa Clara County Planning Commission meeting recently.

Petitioners Jack and Elsie Bond and Elliotts of Los Gatos sought a C-2-H commercial zoning, but planners provided the use permit zoning for the highway property instead. Under the H-1 provision, the commission retains supervision of structural development, plot plan and access details.

The planning board's decision will be submitted to the County Board of Supervisors for final approval and amendment to the zoning ordinance.

Developers will be required to provide a special service road to prevent impeding of through traffic by vehicles turning into the shopping center.

Plans provide that the existing Elliott's Nursery be the center of the shopping area which will include clothing, drug, hardware and grocery stores, and an enlarged gift shop and restaurant.

Col. George Ames reported on the traffic lights to be installed at the Cupertino intersection and stated that traffic islands will be built, also.

Ernest Angelo reported on the sales slip contest, urging members to turn them in soon. Also, he announced plans for the joint Cupertino-Orchard City picnic to be held Saturday, June 24.

A letter from the Mary-Martha Circle, Junior Kings' Daughters, was read, thanking the group for the cake given them at their recent picnic.

Florence Sheffer reported for the home economics clubs, announcing the next meeting will be held at the Garrod home on Mt. Eden Rd. Thursday, July 6. The next Pomona home economics club meeting will be at Morgan Hill Monday, June 26.

Ladies' night will be featured at the next Grange meeting with offices to be filled by the ladies and Mrs. Sheffer will preside.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Vince Garrod, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angelo, and Nella Seever.

Popular Records: The trials and tribulations of a Blind Date are convincingly portrayed by Margaret Whiting and Bob Hope on their latest platter for Capitol (1042). Smart undertones utilizing filtered asides add to the fun. On the flip Whiting and Hope toss the refreshing homespun fare HOME COOKIN' around with delightful abandon.

Nat King Cole's caressing vocal style sets the pace on the slowly woven sentimental ode MONA LISA (Capitol 1010). Les Baxter's ork and chorus ably add their efforts to Cole's vocal work.

The great Mr. "B" comes forth with a powerful male conception of I WANNA BE LOVED (MGM 10716). This is the oldie recently revived by the Andrews Sisters. Billy Eckstine sings with his usual deep feeling and creates a definitely romantic atmosphere.

Every conceivable type of "south of the border" rhythmic pattern is on one 10 inch LP record called LATIN RHYTHMS by Edmundo Ros and his orchestra (London LPB 155). Such things as Tico, Tico, La Comparsa, Samba Samba, Paraguedista, Conga, etc., are beautifully done. The drummer is the focal point in music of this type and Edmundo Ros himself plays the drums on these recordings. For dancing or listening you will not go wrong on this one.

CHILDREN'S RECORDS: It may seem rather peculiar to be reviewing a record called THE FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL when school is about to close for the summer vacation, but for the millions of youngsters who will be confronted with the awesome experience of starting school this fall this record will be a godsend. Dinah Shore offers an entertaining as well as instructive musical picture of what the classroom, teacher and lessons are like. If you have a child entering school this fall now would be a good time to start preparing him for that experience via this recording (Columbia MJV-66).

CLASSICAL RECORDS: The perennial favorite MENDELSSOHN: Concerto in E Minor is given a straightforward, non-exhibitionist interpretation by a violinist called just—Campoli, with Van Beinum conducting the London Philharmonic Orchestra (London LPS 90). This concerto is of course played at least every other day by any violinist of importance and is often referred to as being "hackneyed". Let us not forget that it is only a composition of real and universal appeal that ever becomes popular enough to earn the flatter term "hackneyed". Campoli's performance is outstanding in that he approaches the concerto as a new, fresh piece of music and plays without any affectations. All the beauty of form, clean-cut design, and balance of phrase and harmony that characterize Mendelssohn are highlighted in this reading of his Violin Concerto in E Minor. All too often we have Mr. Big-Name violinist playing Mendelssohn's Concerto but this recording gives us Mendelssohn's Concerto played by just—Campoli—and that makes all the difference in the world.

It is not too great a jump from the beautiful, picturesque and impersonal music of Mendelssohn to the witty, sophisticated work of the young French Composer Jean Franciux. "Concerto for Piano and Orchestra" has the composer himself at the piano with the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra under the baton of Leo Borchard (Capitol L-8051). This is a sparkling, brilliant recording with excellent surfaces and fine live piano sound. The music is vivacious and full-bodied with interesting rhythmic and harmonic touches.

The pot-pourri MENDELSSOHN CONDUCTS (Capitol P-8078) contains Brahms' Tragic Overture, Schubert's Rosamunde Overture and Beethoven's Excerpts from the Creations of Prometheus and the Turkish March from the Ruins of Athens. Mendelssohn as a conductor is like the little boy who when he was good—was very, very good but when he was bad—was very, very bad. Practically all of Mendelssohn's recordings are either very good or very bad. Do listen before you buy because Mendelssohn is very unpredictable. This collection has Mendelssohn at his best and also at his worst. The Rosamunde Overture is tawdry and sloppily played, but the Tragic Overture is excellent both in interpretation and recording. The seldom heard but very interesting Beethoven music is also excellent. As you may know, Beethoven was very saving with his musical ideas, using the same theme over and over again and in this music you will find one of the three earlier versions of the familiar last movement of his Third Symphony.

Parochial College Permit Hearing Set By Board

Public hearing has been set for June 21 by the County Planning Commission on application of the Sisters of the Presentation for a use permit to operate a parochial teachers college at Vasona Heights.

Proposed location is the 10-acre estate at 40 Whidway, now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shaw Jr. The order proposes remodeling and an estimated $20,000 in improvements.

Our Colors

Look at the flag floating o'er you,
Gaze at it well once more
Have you taken it for granted?
As you have, many blessings before.

Uncover your head, and gaze
proudly.
Think what it means to you.
Realize that it stands for all things
That are grand and free and true.

Each color it wears is a symbol
That you must humbly revere;
The banner itself is symbolic
Of all that you hold most dear.
The red that is proudly floating,
Rippling in every breeze.
The blood that was shed by heroes
Should bring you down to your knees.

The white stands for ideals,
Freedom and home and love.
'Twill bring you close to your maker

Approved by the Father above.
The third color there is sacred,
A bit from Heaven's own blue,
The tri-color blended together
Will prayerfully carry you through.

—Clara B. Baldwin

Honored guests presented in the East were Deputy Grand Matrons Virginia Currie of the 39th District and Minnie Clark of the 40th, and Barbara Torry, Grand Representative to Texas, of Olive Branch chapter of San Francisco.
